Effective Date	Purchases on or after April 9, 2008 and before January 1, 2009. Repayment to begin for 2010 tax year.	All revisions are effective as of January 1, 2009.

UNDERSTANDING THE INCENTIVES

In 2008, Congress enacted a $7,500 tax credit designed to be an incentive for first-time homebuyers to purchase a home. The credit was designed as a mechanism to decrease the over-supply of homes for sale.

For 2009, Congress has increased the credit to $8,000 and made several additional improvements. This revised $8,000 tax credit applies to purchases on or after January 1, 2009 and before December 1, 2009.

TAX CREDITS – THE BASICS

1. What's this new homebuyer tax incentive for 2009?

In 2008, the $7,500, repayable credit is increased to $8,000 and the repayment feature is eliminated for 2009 purchasers. Any home that is purchased for $80,000 or more qualifies for the full $8,000 amount. If the house costs less than $80,000, the credit will be 10% of the cost. Thus, if an individual purchased a home for $65,000, the credit would be $6,500. It is available for the purchase of a principal residence on or after January 1, 2009 and before December 1, 2009.

2. Who is eligible?

Only first-time homebuyers are eligible. A person is considered a first-time buyer if he/she has not had any ownership interest in a home in the three years previous to the day of the 2009 purchase.

3. How does a tax credit work?

Every dollar of a tax credit reduces income taxes by a dollar. Credits are claimed on an individual's income tax return. Thus, a qualified purchaser would figure out all the income items and exemptions and make all the calculations required to figure out his/her total tax due. Then, once the total tax owed has been computed, tax credits are applied to reduce the total tax bill. So, if before taking any credits on a tax return a person has total tax liability of $9,500, an $8,000 credit would wipe out all but $1,500 of the tax due ($$9,500 - $8,000 = $1,500$).

4. So what happens if the purchaser is eligible for an $8,000 credit but their entire income tax liability for the year is only $6,000?

This tax credit is what's called "refundable" credit. Thus, if the eligible purchaser's total tax liability was $6,000, the IRS would send the purchaser a check for $2,000. The refundable amount is the difference between the $8,000 credit amount and the amount of tax liability ($$8,000 - $6,000 = $2,000$). Most taxpayers determine their tax liability by referring to tables that the IRS prepares each year.

5. How does withholding affect my tax credit and my refund?

A few examples are provided at the end of this document. There are several steps in this calculation, but most income tax software programs are equipped to make that determination.

6. Is there an income restriction?

YES. The income restriction is based on the tax filing status the purchaser claims when filing his/her income tax return. Individuals filing Form 1040 as Single (or Head of Household) are eligible for the credit if their income is no more than $75,000. Married couples who file a Joint return may have income of no more than $150,000.

7. How is my "income" determined?

For most individuals, income is defined and calculated in the same manner as their Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) on their 1040 income tax return. AGI includes items like wages, salaries, interest and dividends, pension and retirement earnings, rental income and a host of other elements. AGI is the final number that appears on the bottom line of the front page of an IRS Form 1040.

8. What if I worked abroad for part of the year?

Some individuals have earned income and/or receive housing allowances while working outside the U.S. Their income will be adjusted to reflect those items to measure Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI). Their eligibility for the credit will be based on their MAGI.

9. Do individuals with incomes higher than the $75,000 or $150,000 limits lose all the benefit of the credit?

Not always. The credit phases out between $75,000 – $95,000 for Singles and $150,000 – $170,000 for married filing Joint. The closer a buyer comes to the maximum phase-out amount, the smaller the credit will be. The law provides a formula to gradually withdraw the credit. Thus, the credit will disappear after an individual's income reaches $95,000 (Single return) or $170,000 (Joint return).

✧ For example, if a married couple had income of $165,000, their credit would be reduced by 75% as shown:

Couple's income: $165,000

Income limit: $150,000

Excess income: $15,000

✧ The excess income amount ($15,000 in this example) is used to form a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the excess income amount ($15,000). The denominator is $20,000 (specified by the statute).

✧ In this example, the disallowed portion of the credit is 75% of $8,000, or $6,000 ($$15,000/$20,000 = 75\% \times $8,000 = $6,000$).

✧ Stated another way, only 25% of the credit amount would be allowed. In this example, the allowable credit would be $2,000 ($25\% \times $8,000 = $2,000$).

10. What's the definition of "principal residence?"

Generally, a principal residence is the home where an individual spends most of his/her time (generally defined as more than 50%). It is also defined as "owner-occupied" housing. The term includes single-family detached housing, condos or co-ops, townhouses or any similar type of new or existing dwelling. Even some houseboats or manufactured homes count as principal residences.

11. Are there restrictions on the location of the property?

YES. The home must be located in the United States. Property located outside the U.S. is not eligible for the credit.

12. Are there restrictions related to the financing for the mortgage on the property?

In 2009, most financing arrangements are acceptable and will not affect eligibility for the credit. Congress eliminated the financing restriction that applied in 2008. (In 2008, purchasers were ineligible for the $7,500 credit if the financing was obtained by means of mortgage revenue bonds.) Now, mortgage-revenue bond financing will not disqualify an otherwise-eligible purchaser. (Mortgage revenue bonds are tax-exempt bonds issued by a state housing agency. Proceeds from the bonds must be used for below market loans to qualified buyers.)

13. Do I have to repay the 2009 tax credit?

NO. There is no repayment for 2009 tax credits.

14. Do 2008 purchasers still have to repay their tax credit?

YES. The $7,500 credit in 2008 was more like an interest-free loan. All eligible purchasers who claimed the 2008 credit will still be required to repay it over 15 years, starting with their 2010 tax return.

SOME PRACTICAL QUESTIONS

15. How do I apply for the credit?

There is no pre-purchase authorization, application or similar approval process. All eligible purchasers simply claim the credit on their IRS Form 1040 tax return. The credit will be reflected on a new Form 5405 that will be attached to the 1040. Form 5405 can be found at www.irs.gov.

16. So I can't use the credit amount as part of my downpayment?

NO. Congress tried hard to devise a mechanism that would make the funds available for closing costs, but found that pre-funding would require cumbersome processes that would, in effect, bring the IRS into the purchase and settlement phase of the transaction.

17. So there's no way to get any cash flow benefits before I file my tax return?

YES, there is. Any first-time homebuyers who believe they are eligible for all or part of the credit can modify their income tax withholding (through their employers) or adjust their quarterly estimated tax payments. Individuals subject to income tax withholding would get an IRS Form W-4 from their employer, follow the instructions on the schedules provided and give the completed Form W-4 back to the employer. In many cases their withholding would decrease and their take-home pay would increase. Those who make estimated tax payments would make similar adjustments.

SOME "REAL WORLD" EXAMPLES

18. What if I purchase later this year but can't get to settlement before December 1?

The credit is available for purchases before December 1, 2009. A home is considered as "purchased" when all events have occurred that transfer the title from the seller to the new purchaser. Thus, closings must occur before December 1, 2009 for purchases to be eligible for the credit.

19. I haven't even filed my 2008 tax return yet. If I buy in 2009, do I have to wait until next year to get the benefit of the credit?

You'll have a helpful choice that might speed up the process. Eligible homebuyers who make their purchase between January 1, 2009 and December 1, 2009 can treat the purchase as if it had occurred on December 31, 2008. Thus, they can claim the credit on their 2008 tax return that is due on April 15, 2009. They actually have three filing options.

- ◆ If they purchased between January 1, 2009 and April 15, 2009, they can claim the $8,000 credit on the 2008 return due on April 15.
- ◆ If they filed an extension for their 2008 income taxes, they can file their return as late as October 15, 2009. (The IRS grants automatic extensions, but the taxpayer must file for the extension. See www.irs.gov for instructions on how to obtain an extension.)
- ◆ If they have filed their 2008 return before they purchase the home, they may file an amended 2008 tax return on Form 1040X (Form 1040X is available at www.irs.gov).

Of course, 2009 purchasers will always have the option of claiming the credit for the 2009 purchase on their 2009 return. Their 2009 tax return is due on April 15, 2010.

20. I purchased my home in early 2009 before the stimulus bill was enacted. I claimed a $7,500 tax credit on my 2008 return as prior law had permitted. Am I restricted to just a $7,500 credit?

NO, you would qualify for the $8,000 credit. Eligible purchasers who have already claimed the $7,500 credit on a 2008 return for a 2009 purchase may file an amended return (IRS Form 1040X) for the 2008 tax year. This amended return will enable them to obtain the additional $500 credit amount.

21. If I claim my 2009 $8,000 credit on my 2008 tax return, will I have to repay the credit just as the 2008 credits are repaid?

NO. Congress anticipated this confusion and has made specific provision so that there would be no repayment of 2009 credits that are claimed on 2008 returns.

22. I made an eligible purchase of a principal residence in May 2008 and claimed the $7,500 credit on my 2008 tax return. My brother, who has never owned a home, wishes to purchase a partial interest in the home this spring and move in. Will he qualify for the $8,000 credit, as well?

NO. Any purchase of a principal residence (or interest in a principal residence) from a related party such as a sibling, parent, grandparent, aunt or uncle is ineligible for the tax credit. Since you and your brother are related in this way, he cannot qualify for the credit on any portion of the home that he purchases from you, even if he is a first-time homebuyer.

23. I live in the District of Columbia. If I qualify as a first-time homebuyer, can I use both the $5,000 D.C. credit and the $8,000 credit?

NO; double dipping is not allowed. You would be eligible for only the $8,000 credit. This will be an advantage because of the higher credit amount, plus the eligibility requirements for the $8,000 credit are somewhat more easily satisfied than the D.C. credit.

24. I know there is no repayment requirement for the $8,000 credit. Will I ever have to repay any of the credit back to the government?

One situation does require a recapture payment back to the government. If you claim the credit but then sell the property within three years of the date of purchase, you are required to pay back the full amount of any credit, including any refund you received from it. A few exceptions apply (see below, #25). Note that this same three-year recapture rule applies, as well, to the $7,500 credit available for 2008. This provision is designed as an anti-flipping rule.

25. What if I die or get divorced or my property is ruined in a natural disaster within the three years?

The repayment rules are eased for many circumstances. If the homeowner who used the credit dies within the first three years of ownership, there is no recapture. Special rules make adjustments for people who sell homes as part of a divorce settlement, as well. Similarly, adjustments are made in the case of a home that is part of an involuntary conversion (property is destroyed in a natural disaster or subject to condemnation by eminent domain by an authorized agency) within the first three years.

26. I have a home under construction. Am I eligible for the credit?

YES, so long as you actually occupy the home before December 1, 2009.

WITHHOLDING EXAMPLES

Situation One Sally plans her withholding so that her withholding is as close as possible to what she anticipates as her income tax liability for the year. When she fills out her 1040, her liability is $6,000. She has had $6,000 withheld from her paycheck. She also qualifies for the $8,000 homebuyer credit.

Result: Sally's withholding satisfies her tax liability and reduces it to zero. She will receive a refund of the full $8,000.

Situation Two Nick and Nora file a Joint return. Nick is self-employed and makes estimated payments; Nora has taxes withheld from her salary. When they compute their taxes, their combined withholding and estimated tax payments are $11,000. Their income tax liability is $9,800. They also qualified as first-time homebuyers and are eligible for the $8,000 refundable tax credit.

Result: Ordinarily, their combined estimated tax payments and withholding would make them eligible for a refund of $1,200 ($$11,000 - $9,800 = $1,200$). Because they are eligible for the refundable tax credit as well, they will receive a refund of $9,200 ($$1,200$ income tax refund + $$8,000$ refundable tax credit = $$9,200$).

Situation Three Cesar and LuzMaria both have income taxes withheld from their salaries and file a Joint return. When they file their income tax return, their combined withholding is $5,000. However, their total tax liability is $7,200, generating an additional income tax liability of $2,200 ($$7,200 - $5,000$). They also qualify for the $8,000 first-time homebuyer tax credit.

Result: Cesar and LuzMaria have been under-withheld by $2,200. Ordinarily, they would be required to pay the additional $2,200 they owe (plus any applicable interest and penalties). Because they are eligible for the refundable homebuyer tax credit, the credit will cover the $2,200 additional liability. In addition, they will receive an income tax refund of $5,800 ($$8,000 - $2,200 = $5,800$). If they owed penalties and/or interest, that amount would reduce the refund.

Note: The impact of estimated tax payments would be the same.
